Tiny Babies Born At Local Hospital

Twin girls, weighing only 3 and 2½ pounds respectively, were born eight weeks prematurely to Mrs. Leona M. Egan, 37, at Symmes Arlington Hospital, Monday morning.

The tiny girls have been placed in incubators. Yesterday the report was "progressing satisfactorily."

The mother was rushed to the hospital shortly after 1 a.m. by her husband, William, 35, from their home, 107 Gardner st.

Egan is employed in Arlington Public Works Dept.

THREE BREAKS

Three apartments in the same area were broken into Friday evening.

All were ransacked but little of value was taken. Evidently cash and cash only was being searched for.

Two of the apartments were at 285 Mass. ave., the other at No. 389.

Two men are believed involved. One is described as about 30 years old, 5 ft. 11 in., thin, shallow, brown hair, wearing light trench coat; the other as 25-30 years, dark complexion, black hair, stocky, wearing gray tweed coat.

$23,100 Fund Gift For Club Is Revealed

The $200,000.00 Arlington Boys' Club Building Fund received impetus this week when Arthur D. Saul Jr., campaign chairman, announced a subscription of $23,100 from Arthur O. Davidson, Henry E. Davidson and Harold A. Davidson, who conduct their business in Arlington as the Davidson Management Co. and Atlantic Roofing & Skylight Works.

The gift will be designated to establish and equip the gymnasium in the new club house which will be known as the Davidson Gymnasium.

Atlantic Roofing & Skylight Works was founded in Boston in 1919 by the late John Davidson. They moved their operation from Boston to Arlington in 1957 and today are operating in and from a completely new and modern plant at 30 Park ave., Arlington Heights. This business carries on operations throughout the country and specializes in the design and erection of Industrial Sheet Metal Products.

The Davidson Management Co. have built and own most of the multi-story, elevator serviced apartment houses in the Town of Arlington.

Arthur O. Davidson, a former chairman of the Arlington Finance Committee, resided here until 1953. Henry E. Davidson, who together with Harold is a graduate of Arlington High school, has always maintained his home in Arlington.

Harold is now a resident of Weston, played basketball and football while at Arlington High School, and can recall vividly, the days when he was a member of the Charlestown Boys' Club, to which he traveled daily from Arlington by street car to play basketball there.

The Davidsons in advising Mr. Saul of their decision to participate in this community undertaking said, "We have watched the Arlington Boys' club develop and expand over the years and have had the greatest admiration for the program and the citizens who have so ably given of their time and efforts.

"It continues to amaze us that with the existing limited facilities, the Club is able to handle a membership of over 1700 with more than 400 boys joining in each day activities.

"With the announcement of the Charles Hayden Foundation's gift, it became our firm conviction that the community must support this campaign."

Mr. Saul in acknowledging the gift commented, "I can only say that we are exceedingly grateful for this very early evidence of support of the building fund. Such generosity can never be accorded adequate thanks and if other businesses and families rally behind in like fashion, we cannot help but be successful.

"The Davidson Gymnasium will stand as a fitting tribute to these men for their concern in the youth of our time and our community."

Nineteen Challenge For Town Offices As Filing Deadline Draws Nearer

Plan Split Level Grade School

The School Committee has gone over the plans for the Pheasant Avenue elementary school and finds them good. This was the feeling at Monday night's meeting.

As devised by the Building committee and the architect, the structure will be a split-level affair. This was done because of the terrain and to eliminate a great amount of blasting of heavy ledge.

The plans were explained Monday night by Committee member Charles Kent, ex-officio member of the Building committee.

No price has been made public but there are guesses which tab the building at a bit over $800,000.

The School Assistance committee will now come into the picture to help sell the project to the Town Meeting.

For the classroom sections, the plans call for nine on the second floor at one level and seven in a one story section on the other level. On the ground floor of the first, would be an 350-person assembly hall, a playroom and kindergarten.

One side will be so constructed that an addition, if needed later, will be a simple step.

On the Building committee are Daniel C. Whitney, chairman, Cornelius Brosnan, Alfred Camarano, Aubrey C. Tobey, Edward G. Grey; also, two ex-officio members, School Committee member Charles R. Kent and Town Manager Edward G. Monahan.

A DOG whose owner lives on Brewster rd. is reported to Selectmen as vicious by a neighbor. The police will investigate.

According to Town Clerk Ann Mahon, 19 residents (as of yesterday) will seek major office in the annual Town elections in March.

As usual, candidates for Town Meeting member drag. The vacancies are large in number and, in many instances, offer a "free" ride as to competition.

Not so, according to Clerk Mahon, for the so-called major offices. As exceptions, unchallenged (so far) remain the office of Town Clerk and Town Treasurer-Collector, occupied by Francis Coughlin.

All other offices are challenged.

The biggest burst occurred over the week-end when Assessor Leonard D. Wood announced he would not re-run. With two previously in the race, there are now five.

As revealed by Town Clerk

Ann Mahon, as of yesterday there follows the candidates who have taken out nomination papers: ["taking" out papers does not necessarily mean "filing" them — Ed.]

Town Clerk — *Ann Mahon.
Treasurer — *Francis A. Coughlin.
Selectmen (2). — *Joseph P. Greeley, *Thomas R. Rawson, Edward W. Murphy, Jr., Horace H. Homer.
Assessor — Robert B. Wilton, Robert B. Walsh, John B. Byrne Jr., Wallace J. Flynn, John E. Mitchell.
School Committee (3) — Walter E. Russell, *Bernard A. Forest, *Richard W. Baker, *Arthur F. Coughlin Jr., Mary K. Carter Jr.
Housing Authority — *Joseph S. Vahey, James A. Barry Jr., Aloysius H. Weismann.
* denotes incumbents.

Huge Vacancies In TM Roster

Town Clerk Ann Mahon announced this week that at present there are 139 vacancies in the roster of Town Meeting members to be filled by ballot at the coming annual Town Election to be held on March 7.

This huge number is caused, in part she pointed, by the revision of total membership in Precincts 5, 8, 10 and 11. This forces all members in these four precincts to run.

Of the 139 vacancies, 10 are for one or two-year unexpired terms caused by resignation or removal from town or precinct.

Snowstorm Costs Not Known Yet

As snow removal operations began yesterday in the business districts, Town Manager Monahan was unable to put a price tag on the Tuesday a.m. snowstorm.

Depth of the icy stuff ranged from 4½ to 6 inches.

Twenty-one town-owned plows, two graders and five contractor plows were called into action at 3:30 a.m. The contractor's equipment was released at noon Tuesday.

As usual, the Advocate received a fairly sizable number of grumbling telephone calls criticizing the job. Manager Monahan said Tuesday that every effort was made to keep costs down while still making the service "more than adequate."

This year's contractors are E. W. Larson & Son, E. S. Johnson Construction Co. and T. F. Kennefick — all of Arlington.

Hit & Run Driver Kills

Local police are grimly searching for a hit and run driver who killed a local man on Park ave. in Heights early Thursday morning.

Dead is John Catanzaro, 65, of 176 Hillside ave.

Yesterday, Police Chief Ryan said, "We are definitely making progress in the search for the driver and his car."

At 1:12 a.m. Thursday a resident at 114 Park ave. called headquarters to report that he had heard thud — "like somebody had just been struck by a car."

Prowl cars, ambulance and a police photographer were sent and found the victim sprawled in the street. He was identified at Symmes hospital by his wallet.

A possible witness gave police the make, approximate year and color of the car.

Later, laboratory tests of the dead man's clothing confirmed the color as described by the witness. Police say that there are other tell-tale factors.

They refuse to give out information, pending the pickup of the criminal, which Chief Ryan says "will be soon."

National Park Is Meeting Subject

Arlington Citizens will have an opportunity to learn more about the proposed Minute Man National Park at the meeting of the Arlington Historical Society next Tuesday evening.

The meeting will be held in the vestry of the Unitarian church on January 26 at 8 p.m. The speaker will be Mr. Mark Bortman, chairman of the Boston National Historical Sites Commission.

His organization recommended to Congress the creation of a national historical park in Lexington, Lincoln and Concord, where the clash of the Minutemen opened the Revolution.

The park would consist of two parts. One, of 557 acres, would be a four mile stretch along the Lexington-Concord battle road, from Fiske Hill beside route 128 to Meriam's corner in Concord.

The other, of 155 acres, would be at North Bridge in Concord, and would include land along both sides of the Concord River from Monument st. to Liberty st. and Lowell rd.

The bill to establish the park has already been signed by President Eisenhower, and had the approval of both Senator Saltonstall and Senator Kennedy. It will establish the final link in the chain of historic places involved in the beginning of American independence, since Yorktown and Valley Forge are already national parks.

Any citizens of Arlington who are interested in learning about the park are invited to attend the meeting, whether members of the Historical Society or not.

3 Fund Leaders Picked

Attorney Francis Keefe and J. Howard Hayes, president of Hayes Pump and Machinery Co., have been named as co-chairmen of the memorial subscription committee, and Gordon D. Schofield, D.M.D. will head the clubs and organizations subscription committee of the $200,000 Arlington Boys' club building fund as announced by Arthur D. Saul Jr., campaign chairman.

Presiding at the recent second meeting of the campaign's steering committee, Saul stated that "we welcome to our growing membership of campaign leaders such capable and conscientious men who can and will join with us in this very large undertaking to provide our youth and our community with one of the finest of Boys' clubs".

Keefe and Hayes will lead a committee comprised of some 20 to 25 people who will present to various individuals and families in the greater Arlington community the opportunity of dedicating specific units or sections in the proposed clubhouse in honor of, or in memory of their loved ones.

Pointing out that the opportunity to establish such a memorial is not limited to those of great means, the co-chairmen stressed that typical memorials range from furnishings of reading and study room for $600 through the new swimming pool at $26,400.

Keefe, whose wife has served as a director of the Club for many years, is a life long resident of Arlington. Active in many civic and professional fields he has been president of the Arlington Community Chest, president of the Cambridge Bar Ass'n and also a member of the Board of Trustees of the Robbins Library of Arlington. He also is a past president of the Touchdown club of Arlington.

Mr. Hayes, president of the Boys' club in 1952 and 1953 has lived in Arlington for over 45 years. A member of the town finance committee for 22 years of which he served 12 as chairman, Hayes is a director of the Arlington Family Welfare Society and the Boston City Missionary Society and has served as a member of the Special Gifts Committee of the United Community Services.

Dr. Schofield, long interested in youth work in Arlington, has been a member of the Boys' Club Incorporators for the past three years and has made Arlington his home for 20 years. He is a member of Hiram Lodge AF & AM, the Touchdown club and Com-

Miss O'Leary To Attend New York Drama School

Virginia Marie O'Leary of 22 Bartlett ave. auditioned before the executive board of the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, America's oldest drama school, on January 15th in New York City and was immediately accepted.

The audition, consisting of one serious and one comedy scene, was rated exceptional. Miss O'Leary, a graduate of the A.H.S. class of 1958, had the lead parts in her junior and senior years there receiving several acting awards and was also prominent in C.Y.O. productions. Last summer she apprenticed at the Boston Arts center which eventually led her to studying acting in N.Y.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Spiritual understanding of God as divine Truth brings mankind assurance of healing and redemption — this is a theme of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth" which will be read at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural passages will include the account in Luke of the healing by Christ Jesus of the man "which had a spirit of an unclean devil" (4:33-36).

A correlative citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "To understand God strengthens hope, enthrones faith in Truth, and verifies Jesus' word: 'Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world'" (446:20).

The Golden Text is from Psalms: "Teach me thy way, O Lord; I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to fear thy name" (86:11).

"We are living in an age where leisure and ease are considered as important as education and other really basic values. The truth is that we need to put more emphasis on old-fashioned work. Nothing worthwhile was ever accomplished without it." — W. Gordon Robertson, President, Bangor and Arrostook Railroad.

munity club and has served actively in the annual appeals of the United Community services.

Fisherman's Delight

Members of the fishing fraternity, if they should drop in to Boston's Museum of Science, will find a prize "catch" from New England lakes and streams to whet their appetite for the coming season.

Going on public display today is an exhibit of New England fresh water game fish comprising 22 specimens which range all the way from the tiny pumpkinseed to a 20-pound catfish.

Unlike those in most collections these are not mounted, or stuffed, but are rubber casts of freshly caught fish, authentically colored and virtually indistinguishable from the originals.

All of the specimens were cast from fish provided by the Fish and Game Commissions of Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont. The Museum prefers rubber casts to mounted specimens because the casts are practically indestructible and impervious to insects. Also they can show every scale and detail of muscle structure, both of which are practically impossible to retain in mounted fish.

However, a plaster of paris cast must be made of the fish immediately after it is taken from the water in order to get a perfect and lifelike reproduction. The fins are first cut off and cast separately.

The fish are then discarded and the casts, carefully wrapped in burlap and blankets for protection, are brought back to the Museum for the next step.

Here, liquid rubber is poured into the molds and left to harden. Depending upon the size of the fish, this takes from two to four weeks. The fins, however, harden overnight. They are attached with more liquid latex, and the natural-colored replicas are ready for the artist.

All of the fish in this collection were cast by Joseph A. Spencer, of the Museum Exhibits Department. The coloring was the work of Richard E. Sheffield, also a member of the department.

The Museum is open Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m.; and Friday nights until 10 p.m.

It is closed Mondays.

French Africa Is Mission Topic

Dr. George Roland Horner of Boston University will be the guest speaker on Jan. 27 at the second session of the School of Missions at the First Baptist church of Arlington. Preceding Dr. Horner's illustrated talk "At Home in the Cameroons of French Africa," a catered supper will be served at 6:30 p.m. by Mrs. W. Gardiner Goss.

Members of the Junior and Senior High Fellowships will wait on table, under the direction of Miss Diane Tomlinson.

Following the speaker and a devotional period, the gathering will divide into two continuing discussion groups. One is the African seminar directed by Rev. Donald D. Menzel, associate minister. The other is the Town and Country seminar lead by Mrs. Wilma Slaughter, wife of Dr. Robert Earl Slaughter, minister.

The guest speaker was educated at Wheaton College, Columbia University, and Paris, before becoming resident anthropologist for the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions in the French Cameroons in 1950 until 1953. Since 1954 he has been in the graduate schools of Boston University as research associate in the African Research and Studies program and as assistant professor of sociology.

The School of Missions is sponsored by the Missionary and Stewardship Education Committee of First Baptist Church. Mrs. Mary Bailey, Chairman. Supper reservations are being handled by Mrs. Albert S. Brown.

At the first meeting on Jan. 6 the guest lecturer was Miss Eva Shepard, of the Institute Belgique, Kikongo, in Central Africa. Miss Shepard is now on furlough studying at Andover-Newton Theological School. She is an American Baptist missionary assigned to the Sona Bata station in the Belgian Congo.

Obituary

MAUDE L. BAKER

A large number of friends, town officials and members of the School committee, attended the funeral services for Maude L. Baker, in the Saville chapel on Jan. 16.

The officiating minister was the Rev. George Pennington, former pastor of the First Universalist church, now in Concord, N.H.

Mrs. Baker, the widow of Dr. Peter S. Baker, a Somerville dentist many years, died Jan. 15 in her home 222 Gray st., after a long illness. Moving from Somerville the Bakers have lived here since 1914. About five years ago they observed their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Baker was a member of the Eastern Star and past president of the Assembly club.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Marjorie B. Woodrow of Princeton, N.J., a son, Dr. Richard W. Baker, local optometrist and a member of the School Committee, Roswell H. Baker, of Needham and several grandchildren.

Interment was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

MATTER of increased bus service for residents in the vicinity of Arlmont Village is now in the hands of the M.T.A.'s Superintendent of Transportation for a complete review.

Coach Burns Is Feted

At the monthly meeting of the Touchdown club, held on Jan. 14, 136 members and guests paid tribute to Eddie Burns, Coach of the Arlington High school football and hockey teams.

President Francis E. Kenney introduced George Fusco who acted as master of ceremonies. Fusco presented several distinguished guests, who at one time or another, played an important role in the formidable career of Coach Burns.

Boston College hockey coach, "Snooks" Kelley; Watertown High schools' football coach Vic Palladino and Arlington High's Principal Charles Downs all spoke briefly about specific achievements that have occurred in Coach Ed Burns' sensational playing and coaching career. Burns reminisced with several of the guests and recalled many experiences that he associated with Gil Boyley, Bill Conroy, John McKenna and others.

In concluding the evening's activities, Fusco presented Coach Burns handsome gifts from the members of the club.

Cossack's Engaged For Fund Affair

The world famous General Platoff "Don Cossack" chorus and dancers will appear in Arlington in September under the auspices of the Arlington Rotary club, for the benefit of the new Boys club building fund, it was announced today by Rotary club president Ralph R. Hudson.

This group, under the direction of Nicholas Kostroff, has appeared in more than seven thousand concerts in sixty-five countries on six continents, but never in Russia. All members are White Russians who would not be welcomed behind the Iron Curtain.

Some of the older men of the chorus fought Communism during the Revolution. The younger ones either fled the country with their parents or were born in exile, the children of emigres.

Their appearance in Arlington will be the only one in the area this season. The committee handling arrangements are Carmen Foritano, chairman, Robert Burke, Arthur Braverman, Robert Wilton, and Harry Behr.

"Since World War II, almost every American worker has received a wage increase every year. In my personal judgement, the time has come to start using the entire growth in output per man hour for a reduction of prices. This will not undermine the welfare of workers. It would mean that their present wages would buy more and more. That certainly is better than getting slightly higher wages which buy less and less."—Dr. Ralph Roby, economist.

The installation of Rabbi Herbert Rosenblum of the ALB Jewish Community Center took place during regular Sabbath Eve services at the Center on January 15th. Lieut Arnold Fagin assumed the cantorial duties.

Following an address to the congregation by Dr. Ovadia Rechtman, president of the Center, Rabbi Rosenblum was formally installed by Rabbi Herman Rabinowitz, who is Rabbi Emeritus of Temple Mishkan Tefila, West Roxbury.

Rabbi Rosenblum preached the sermon, "To Destroy and To Build."

Following the installation, refreshments were served by the Sisterhood and Brotherhood of the Center. Participating in the serving were Jack Garfield, Mrs. Alan Green, Mrs. Ovadia Rechtman.

Locals Place Two On Olympic Team

The Lynnfield Bruins, who have lost their last two games by one goal, will try to get back into the win column when they face the third place Cambridge Comets in the opener of the South Shore Amateur Hockey League doubleheader, Thursday at 8:30 at the Boston Arena.

In the other feature game, the Arlington Arcadiens, League leaders by one point, will engage the Conley H.C. of West Roxbury.

Arcadien Dick Rodenhiser was honored last week by being selected to join the U.S. Olympic team.

This brings the total to five players drafted from the League. The others being honored are Bob Dupuis (Arlington), Jack Kirrane, Bob McVey (Rockland) and Dave Outerbridge (West Roxbury). Kirrane was voted to captain the team.

GARDEN CLUB

The Arlington Garden Club met January 13, in Library hall.

Mrs. Wesley A. McSorley Jr., president, announced that the rose is now officially the national flower having been chosen by popular vote throughout the nation.

Mrs. Harold P. Houghton, horticulture chairman, reported that horticulturists advise protecting shrubs against winter injury by using discarded Christmas trees rather than burlap.

She also informed the members that wild flowers that grow in bogs and swamps are disappearing as the land is cleared and filled for building. Many of these wild flowers can be transplanted and grown in cultivated gardens.

Mrs. Leslie Moriarty, holiday gift chairman, asked for volunteers to help wrap gifts, make corsages and distribute the gifts to shut-ins on Valentine's Day.

Mrs. John Henderson has been appointed blood chairman representing the Arlington Garden club on the Arlington Red Cross Blood Committee.

Miss Nancy J. Hoefflich, 1959 recipient of the Arlington Garden Club scholarship, which she used for two weeks of study last summer at the Audubon Camp in Maine, spoke of her experiences at the Camp and showed slides.

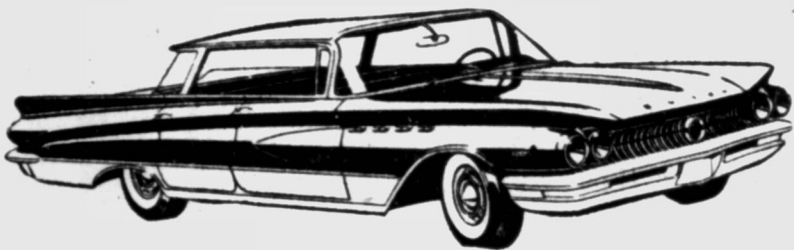

Miss Hoefflich teaches natural science and conservation in the fifth grades of the Arlington public schools. She emphasized that the study and field trips made possible by the Arlington Garden club provided her with much valuable teaching material for her pupils.

Dried arrangements were exhibited by Mrs. Russell S. Carr, Mrs. Raymond Coyle, Mrs. John N. Loud, Mrs. Ehrich E. M. Schreiter and Mrs. T. McKinn.

A display of members' hobbies included miniature oil paintings by Mrs. Russell S. Carr, pencil sketches by Mrs. Raymond Coyle, Oil painting by Mrs. Francis J. Davidson, painted china by Mrs. Frederick J. Hodges, braided mat by Mrs. James W. McGinn, leather key case by Mrs. Frank H. Robbins and silver by Mrs. Ehrich E. M. Schreiter.

EDITORIAL

What About Publicity?

What about publicity? And, actually, what is it? Our most simplified definition is that it is material submitted to a newspaper which is not essentially news. Therefore, we think it needs special treatment and careful effort in order to cross over that line from "sale pitch" to "honest news."

Since this is the 1st of the year — and also political time — permit us to state a few regulations which we believe are valid.

Remember, always, that we want to print it if it is news and that you want to get it in the paper, if you can. Primarily, even though elections are soon, we are talking to club publicity chairmen!

In order for you to win, we ask:

- 1) decent, legible copy on paper at least larger than a wedding invitation;
- 2) write or type — double space, triple is better; good writing is just as acceptable;
- 3) leave room at the top of sheet for us to write headline and give instructions to back shop;
- 4) use one side of sheet only;
- 5) local names must be in the story — we care more about you the program chairman is, than some so-called "internationally" known speaker.

- 6) when something is stated as a positive fact — it was "a wonderful" meeting or he is the "best candidate" — quote some responsible person. The Advocate will not make these claims for you unless it chooses to do so in its editorial columns;
- 7) never say "our" club, church, friends, etc.; most of our readers are not members, so "our" is silly;
- 8) an event which is important to you should be reported as fast as possible — not when you feel like but when the reader wants to know about it;
- 9) cut out all glowing adjectives; avoid: best, wonderful, interesting and informative, charming, etc.; can you prove these statements?
- 10) read, re-read and re-read again your material and cut out all superfluous words, phrases and repetitions; readers will read three or four inches but not a full column.

THANK YOU!

TO: SCHOOL KIDS

We bet that 50 per cent of the time buttons for red and yellow lights are pushed as "false alarms" by you kids — not wishing to cross at all.

Tonight, have your parents tell you the story about a boy that called "wolf," once too often.

Buying, Selling Or Improving Your Home

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

IN TODAY'S economy, with constantly rising prices and land values, it is quite common for the family man to look upon his home as an investment. Not that he entertains the idea of selling it necessarily, but at least he knows that it will probably climb in value, and that he could then sell it if he wanted to. However, as an investment, the ownership of a home differs in many respects from the ownership of stocks or bonds, and these differences have important tax implications that you should be aware of.

Changing Your Residence

If you sell your house (which is your principal residence) at a profit and move to a new house, you may not have to pay tax on the profit. Let's say you bought a house five years ago for $15,000, which you sold last year for $20,000. Since you held the house for more than six months, the profit of $5,000 is taxable as a long-term capital gain at a maximum rate of 25 per cent. However, if you move into a new house either one year before or one year after the sale, and if the new house costs $20,000 or more, then you pay no tax on the $5,000 profit. If you are having the new house built for yourself and construction begins either one year before or one year after the sale of the old house, then the period of replacement is extended to eighteen months from date of sale, providing you occupy it within that period.

The important point here is that the new house must cost as much or more than the amount you receive for the old house. If it cost only $19,000, you must pay the long-term capital gains tax on the balance of $1,000.

You could actually sell your house at a profit and buy a new one every few years without paying a tax on the profit, but you aren't really avoiding the tax; you are merely postponing it. The cumulative gain will be taxed when the last house is finally sold without being replaced.

Expenses of Owning a House

A home owner is usually in a more advantageous tax position than a person who rents. This is because home owners who elect to itemize their deductions rather than use the standard 10 per cent deduction are allowed to deduct interest and property taxes paid during the year. They can also deduct the loss on damage to their house and grounds resulting from a fire, storm, earthquake, or other casualty (this was discussed in the first article of the series). Taxpayers who rent their homes from others undoubtedly are paying for these costs by rent, but they cannot claim any tax deduction.

Home Improvements and Repairs
Repairs to your home are considered personal expenses. They are not deductible, and for tax purposes, do not increase the cost of your house. Although repairs and maintenance costs are not deductible, they can be used to reduce the amount which must be spent on a new house in order to postpone payment of tax on the gain. However, this only applies to such costs if they are incurred within 90 days before contracting to sell the house, or paid within 30 days after.

Improvements to your house are not deductible either, but they do increase the cost of your house. This is an important point to remember when planning to sell your house. To determine the amount you will gain from the sale of your house, add the cost of improvements you have made to the original cost of the house and subtract the total from the selling price. If you bought it for $15,000, added $2,000 worth of improvements, and sold it for $20,000, your gain would be $3,000.

When you invest in a home, it is almost like investing in a business. To be able to take advantage of the legitimate tax considerations you are entitled to, you will need to keep accurate records of your various expenses. So don't forget to save your paid bills from year to year.

That Man About Town

By MAT

Campaigns in the annual Town election took a tremendous spurt over the week-end.

Largely responsible was the positive statement by incumbent Leonard D. Wood, assessor, that he would not re-run.

On Thursday, John B. Byrne Jr. took out nomination papers for the office, Byrne is chairman of the Planning Board and has been a member since before the Town Manager act. As we hear it, Byrne has the nod from the Horace Homer, but H. H. could switch.

On Friday, signifying intentions to run were Wallace J. Flynn, son of Police Captain James J. Flynn. The younger Flynn was a star Harvard athlete and is prominent in alumni affairs. He is in the insurance business.

Also announced, is John E. Mitchell of 12 Palmer st., who was a member of the old Board of Public Works.

Added to these are two other candidates for Assessor who announced several weeks ago they are, Robert Walsh of Dow avenue who ran unsuccessfully last year vs. "Buzz" Cooledge.

The other is Robert B. Wilton, long identified with the Young Republican movement in Town and a prominent local insurance broker. With so many dems in the race, this man could do it — although it would be a sudden idea; read MAT for the facts!

The race for the most important positions in Town stays about as it was a week ago.

The big news (long suspected) was the advent of Horace Homer into the ring. Incumbent Selectmen are Joseph P. Greeley, considered a very powerful runner, and Thomas R. Rawson.

The other candidate is Edward W. Murphy Jr. of 31 Sherborn st.

Still another candidate for Selectman has long played a prominent role here — Franklin "Pud" Hurd. For him, things have been a bit quiet.

All three incumbents on the School Committee will re-run. They are Dr. Richard Baker, Arthur Coughlin and Bernard Forest.

Challengers are Mary Carter, who recently won her doctor's degree in education, and Walter Russell, former teacher here and, now, an assistant principal in Tewksbury.

Mary Carter ran last year in a close race but failed to place.

Wake Up To The Facts

Last year at this time, a person very much like yourself picked up a newspaper and began to read an article similar to this one.

It dealt with a most important health problem: the public awareness of Salk vaccine for polio prevention. At this point, he shrugged his shoulders and quickly flipped the pages of the paper to a more newsworthy article.

A year has passed and now — 12 short months after — this person is encased in a cumbersome iron lung. He has learned the hard way that polio is still a serious community problem, for he has been told that he may never be moved from his iron lung.

When he first contracted this disease, his thoughts, quite naturally, centered about feeling sorry for himself. He adopted the attitude so familiar to those who have experienced tragedy, an attitude that continually asked the questions — "Why did it happen to me?" and "Why was I the unlucky one?"

He has since found the answer to these questions by facing up to reality.

He remembers now that he was afforded every opportunity to be immunized against this virus, but because of an unfounded wave of personal apathy, he simply ignored getting the prescribed number of shots deemed necessary for maximum protection. He thought that polio would always strike other people, people he'd never know.

This victim's case is representative of a 300 per cent increase of polio within Middlesex County during the past year.

It never occurred to these stricken neighbors that the March of Dimes would have to come to their aid. They had no idea in the world that they would fall victims to this tragic crippler. They assumed that polio victims would always be someone else.

Besides the most recent victims, there are 3,000 people within Middlesex County who were never given the opportunity to receive the Salk vaccine. To these afflicted people, the vaccine, no matter how miraculous it might be, stands for nothing more than "locking the barn door after the horse had been stolen."

These people contracted polio before the vaccine had been discovered and unfortunately, they must dedicate the rest of their lives to overcoming the affects of polio's terribly twisted signature.

A great many of us have overlooked the fact that the Salk vaccine is strictly a preventive discovery.

It can help in preventing the disease and will never aid in curing it.

It will never straighten a deformed limb, nor awaken a pair of sleeping legs.

It can not replace a clumsy wheelchair nor can it brighten a tremendously depressed future.

The March of Dimes has assumed responsibilities for these unfortunate neighbors. It will do everything in its power to aid, rehabilitate and comfort the afflicted people who have been left in Polio's wake. Your past generosity has produced great hope for these courageous people. It has allowed the National Foundation to initiate extensive medical projects and rehabilitative programs which may someday return the afflicted to their rightful place in our community.

More Phones

As has been true for many a year, there are more telephones in the United States than in the rest of the world combined. As an added fact New England's telephones far outnumber those in all South America.

In actual figures as of Jan. 1, 1959, the 66,645,000 telephones in the U.S.A. were 53.4 per cent of the world's 124,800,000, as shown in the 1959 issue of "The World's Telephones" recently released by American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

As of the same date, the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company reports, telephones in the six New England states totalled 4,309,000 — 1,190,000 in Connecticut, 287,000 in Maine, 2,184,000 in Massachusetts, 203,000 in New Hampshire, 322,000 in Rhode Island, 123,000 in Vermont.

There are 71 million phones in the U.S., now (as of Jan. 1, 1960), but it takes nearly a year to obtain data for the whole world.

Alaska and Hawaii, states now, but still separate territories, are the two "talking" places in the world, according to the report. Alaska averaged 609 telephone conversations per person in 1958 and Hawaii 536.

Next came Canada with 511, the U.S. with 472, and Sweden with 346.

NEED THRIFT ITEMS

To the editor,
For your generous cooperation during the past year in printing news articles about the work of Morgan Memorial Goodwill Industries, we express through this brief letter our deep gratitude to the Arlington Advocate.

It is also a letter to all our readers who have donated repairable clothing, household articles and funds to help keep 350 handicapped people at work — folks who would rather work and earn their own way by repairing and reconditioning contributed articles than accept public charity.

As you know we are the largest private agency in New England serving the handicapped, regardless of race, creed, or color.

Hundreds find an open door at Morgan Memorial after all other avenues of help have been closed.

All we ask is that the usable and repairable discards continue to come to us so that the things of no further use to our friends may be used to keep the handicapped employed and then sold in our Thrift Shops to economy minded people. The income from this source pays eighty percent of our operating costs.

Thank you again and may God's blessing be upon you all.

Sincerely,
Henry E. Helms

Behind the Business Scene

by REYNOLDS KNIGHT

NEW YORK, Jan. 11—The nation's economy has entered the 1960s under a full head of steam, conforming to rosy predictions for both the new year and the full decade.

But the average citizen is perhaps more interested in what's ahead for the next year or so — "the foreseeable future." Businessmen generally agree that this period is likely to bring solid economic progress, spurred by a number of strong points.

First, both businessmen and consumers are optimistic; their buying moods will keep the economy moving at a brisk clip. Happily, there is little evidence of any rush buying to beat a sharp rise in prices; no significant inflationary trend is expected. The steel strike's end was welcome news.

Certain forms of business spending will create new jobs and increase payrolls. The advertising field, for example, expect about 10 per cent more business this year. Business spending on research and development will be up in many industries. Government spending — federal, state and local — will increase, possibly to more than $140 billion overall in 1960. The prevailing climate is one of studied — not emotional — optimism.

FOOD PRICES STABLE — Good news for every consumer comes from Ralph W. Burger, president and board chairman of The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company. He predicted that food prices "will be similar to or slightly below" 1959 levels.

The A and P official also noted that 1959's easing in food prices came at a time when the overall cost-of-living index inched ahead to an all-time high.

There will be a leveling-off in new store openings, and a decline in giveaway schemes and other promotional sales gimmicks, Mr. Burger predicts.

Food stores will give continued increased attention to convenience foods, such as frozen and ready-mix products. "With the prospects bright for a continuation of personal income increases, there is every reason to believe that convenience foods will command more and more shelf space," he adds.

AVIATION NOTE — A mood of temperate optimism for 1960 and 1961 prevails at Republic Aviation Corporation, maker of F-105 jet fighter-bombers.

This company entered 1960 with a backlog of $500 million in orders; production of its supersonic F-105 is set at least through 1962, notes Mundy I. Peale, Republic Aviation president. The future also will see major efforts aimed at speeding the company's transition to astronautics.

SMALL-CAR REVOLUTION — For the auto industry, 1960 will be a year of decision as makers of imported and domestic cars alike gauge the first meaningful results of the launching of the American-made compact cars. How will this affect the revolutionary sales uptrend already enjoyed by small, imported cars?

An official of Renault, Inc. says the American "compacts" will help such importers as Renault because they will "help quicken motorists' interest in all economy cars," speeding "growth of public recognition of their advantages."

Significantly, adds Renault's Robert E. Valode, vice president and general manager, Renault dealer sales increased in October, introduction month for some American compacts, and closed 1959 by topping company forecasts for the year.

Valode says that he "confidently" expects import sales to continue upward in 1960.

GAS APPLIANCES — Gas appliance and equipment makers expect sales of most of their products to equal or top 1959, when records were set for sales of built-in ranges, furnaces, boilers and automatic water heaters.

Further, says the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, shipments of built-in gas ranges will lead the way, percentage-wise with a 19.3 percent jump over '59. Warm air furnace and boiler shipments will post gains of 0.5 and 3.3 per cent.

"Most divisions of the industry visualize increases despite the fact that new housing starts may decline in the new year," notes Edward R. Martin, the trade group's director of marketing and statistics. GAMA members are counting heavily on the home modernization market to keep the picture bright.

FOREIGN INROADS — Ceramic tile makers' pleasure over the high construction year of 1959 was dimmed considerably by the fact that imports of that product "blocked" what could have been a year of major expansion, according to the Tile Council, representing manufacturers who make around 90 per cent of the United States' output.

The potential for a doubling in tile sales exists in the new decade "if domestic manufacturing standards can be maintained," says Peter C. Johnson, president-elect of the Tile Council. Noting imported tile took about 20 per cent of the domestic market in 1959, Johnson says:

"At a steadily increasing rate America manufacturers are seeing their domestic markets taken over by imported tile."

He urges tariff revisions or quotas to "base foreign-domestic competition more firmly on conditions of relative wage standards of foreign and domestic workers."

New Edifice Planned On Old Site

Standing before sketches of the proposed new Park Avenue Congregational church are Pietro Belluschi, architect, Myron D. Chace, chairman of the design committee, Charles W. Blackmon, building committee chairman, and Frederic L. Day of Carl Koch and Associates, associate architect.

Members of the Park Avenue Congregational church at the annual meeting on Jan. 12 voted approval of plans for a new church brought in by the Building committee.

Construction is expected to begin late in the spring on the site of the present edifice.

The Church will be of contemporary design, but will embody the clean lines characteristic of colonial architecture.

Pietro Belluschi, Dean of the M.I.T. School of Architecture, and Frederic L. Day of Carl Koch and Associates, associate architect, explained the plans and basic purposes of the design. A 1500 pipe Skinner organ will be installed in the new church at the time of construction.

The building committee includes Charles W. Blackmon, chairman; Mrs. Robert E. Wasson, secretary; and four subcommittees.

The Design committee is comprised of Myron Chace, chairman; Kermit C. Streng, vice-chairman; Richard E. Erickson, Ronald H. McCall and Ralph W. Sexton.

Mrs. Creelman F. McKenzie is chairman of the Needs committee whose members include Mrs. Arthur M. Moore, J. Howard Hayes, Miss Frances M. Nicoll, and Walter R. Tiede.

The Building Fund canvass committee is composed of Chairman William A. Barnstead, Charles Brennecke, Louis C. Carey, Frank S. Morell, Nelson V. Rowe and Harold C. Wells Sr.

An information committee comprised of the building committee chairman and secretary, and Mrs. Edward W. Center, Paul W. Kidd, and Ernest G. Noring, have kept the congregation informed of progress.

The Rev. Wilbur D. Canday Jr., is pastor of the church and Cleon E. Babcock, moderator.

Visit Plant

Students enrolled in the electronics course at the Arlington Vocational High school recently visited the Merrimack Valley plant of the Western Electric Co. Andover. The group was under the supervision of the course instructors, Mr. Terranova and Mr. Jacobsen.

Their first impression of the plant was one of amazement. It is huge — the size of 30 football fields with 4200 people employed in this division.

When they arrived they were shown a motion picture which told about items manufactured and the methods of distribution. After the film they were treated to coffee and doughnuts.

SELECTMEN will ask that left turns into Lake st. from the Concord Turnpike be prohibited week-days from 4 to 6 p.m. The bottleneck caused by drivers wanting to make this turn vs. homeward-bound traffic was pointed out by Selectman Greeley.

"WORDS"

In Token

How often things are given, in token
Of sincerity, friendship, and Love that's true
Or to save a sweet relation, broken...

By something we neglected
to do.
A TOKEN is a little thing of worth
But, it can mean more than the earth
To the one who sees it through
And the one it is presented to.

CORNER REPLIES!

Dear Get A Damp Cloth:
I have long neglected you.

This is a sad fact that a lot of us seem to be guilty of these days. I have noted it among my friends and the neighbors have mentioned the same thing occurring too. Are we all getting too busy to consider anything outside of our own little circles?

A while back you wrote a very sweet poem about your little son. I gather that it was your first. Tell us more! By now he must be a little "bust-ter"! Knowing boys as I do, have a few of my own, he has long since been walking. Are you expecting again? Let's have some chatter from you!

Tussy

Gypsy Heart,

I am really ashamed that I have not kept in better touch with you. It has been ages hasn't it? I don't know whether or not you are still with us but, I would like to hear from all of you again.
I have just returned from my homeland China. About a year ago my infant son became very ill with an unusual sickness.

He was living with my mother and relatives in China as I was here to study. Consequently, my hasty departure from your fair country.
Now I have returned to finish my studies and have brought Len with me.

You mentioned my "Nom" in your last letter. Well, that is what my name means in English. I have been trying out your American dishes with some success, and I must say I like them. But, one complaint that I have is that everything is so highly seasoned.

I would be well to watch this characteristic because many heart ailments or glandular disorders stem from too much seasoning, salt especially. In China people live to be very very old and still maintain useful lives because of the fact that our food does not contain these harmful stimulants to any great excess.

Lotus Pink

Dear A Dabster,

Oh, it was wonderful to hear from you. Thank you so much for your very helpful letter about my Sunday School teaching problem. You are certainly a wise person along that line too! I am beginning to think that there isn't much that you can't do.
Am I wrong?

Yes, I know what you mean about the rewards that come with teaching. I have one of the problem children you mentioned. She, this time, hasn't had a lesson prepared yet and usually gets more of the discipline thrown around than any of her classmates put together!

Last week however she was as good as gold and I must confess for a while there I was really nervous. I wondered what she had up her sleeve or whether she might be really ill! Well, the class progressed without much excitement and afterwards this fair-haired scamp came up to me and asked me if I felt alright.

She went on to say that I acted quite nervous during the class period and hoped that I would feel better soon!
Oh, I was speechless! Then I came to the conclusion that this little girl is one of those very sensitive children and when the atmosphere is very still almost waiting for something to happen, (in this case it was waiting for her to drop her usual bombshell but, she didn't because she had caught the air of anticipation and was waiting for something to happen too).

So maybe I am on the road to a peaceful class period I don't know! Have you had any other experiences you'd like to relate. They may help if I run up against a similar one in this business of teaching?

Little Pepper

Gals,
I have been waiting to see if anyone of you would make a come back to that dynamite type letter about us being too
"BOSSY" and the men in our lives becoming too weak!
What is wrong with you? I guess the answer is that we agree! Well, then what do we do about it?

I had my hubby read that letter and he said, "She, whoever she is, is absolutely right. The average man today at the shop is so overriden by his wife that he is hardly a man anymore. It shows up in their work in their habits, and mainly their drinking and ulcers!" In his estimation a man is on the decline and so is marriage the papers say! I think we, both men and women have a lot of evaluating to do of ourselves and what do we place first in our lives these days?
Is the church on the way out too? I was shocked at the very small crowd we had at the Christmas Evening Service! Last year we had three times as many!

Small Fry To Enjoy Circus

The first Arlington Boys' club "Small Fry Day" of 1960 will be held on this Saturday, January 23, from 10 a.m. until noon.

The theme of the program is Circus Day and club members and staff members are preparing a very humorous program which will include clowns, trained animal acts and cartoons. All club members are invited to bring their younger brothers, sisters and friends to this affair.

The club's physical program is in full swing.

The Cadets' basketball league meets on Saturday mornings at 10 a.m. The younger boys are learning the fundamentals of the game in addition to competitive games.

Outstanding players are Art Hanson, John Glennon, Bob Greene, Larry Keefe, Larry Curry, Steve Doyle.

Outstanding Junior League players are Joe Meadows, Joseph Sabbag, Joe Pope, Ken Kurker, Mike Walsh and Paul King. Games are played on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

The Falcons and the Rebels are tied for 1st place in the Intermediate league.

The boxing program is under the guidance of volunteer, Gil Sestito. The boys meet Wednesday and Saturdays at 3:30 p.m.

The Hockey League continues to hold the interest of 125 club members who meet on Friday nights with volunteers Fran Briand, Bob Bowser and A.H.S. hockey captain, "Butch" Lovering.

SIMMONS CLUB

A meeting of the Arlington-Winchester Simmons club was held on Jan. 12 in Library hall. Preceding the business meeting, dessert and coffee were served by the hospitality committee, the Arlington chairman of which is Mrs. Robert G. Fisk.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Richard E. Lee of Arlington, president of the club. The club members voted to donate a listening booth, consisting of four chairs, a lamp, a cabinet, and a component hi-fi system, to the new Simmons College library, which is now under construction.

The club heard an informative talk, "You and Your Taxes" by Attorney Edward E. Hicks of Winchester. The program was arranged by Miss Ruth Sparks of Arlington, chairman.

Arlington members present included Mrs. Richard Anderson, Mrs. Philip Burt, Mrs. Joseph Donovan, Mrs. Robert G. Fisk, Mrs. J. J. Geagan, Mrs. Charles J. Giles, Mrs. Guy C. Grant, Mrs. Richard E. Lee, Miss Muriel Lewis, Miss Florence Moody, Mrs. Richard F. Schober, Miss Ruth C. Sparks, Mrs. George Stevens and Miss Florence A. Wilson.

WOMAN'S CLUB

"Prejudices are Funny" is the title of the talk to be given by Mark Strickland, on Jan. 28 in the Town Hall before the Arlington Woman's club. Young Soon Lee, soprano, will present vocal selections, accompanied by Rita Larsen. Dessert Hour will be at 1 p.m. Hostesses for the occasion will be the education, music and social committees.

CERTIFIED

PARK STUDY CLUB

The Kensington Park Study club will meet on Jan. 26 with Mrs. Norman Walkinshaw of 418 Massachusetts ave.

Papers will be read by Mrs. Nils Aisen on Rufus Jones and the Friends' Service Committee and by Mrs. Ross Rae on "The Morgan Sisters, Gloria Vanderbilt and Thelma, Lady Furness".

ON COMMITTEE

The intermediate group of the Philomatheia club will hold its annual luncheon and fashion show at Blinstrub's Village on Saturday, Jan. 30 at 12 Noon.

Proceeds will go to the Boston College scholarship fund. Locals on the committee are Mrs. Paul Erickson and Miss Margaret M. Hurley.

Committee To Study New School

The Arlington School Citizens' Committee is planning a meeting for Wednesday, Jan. 27 in the Junior High Industrial Arts school at 8 p.m.

The proposed plans for an elementary school on Pheasant ave.

"It will be necessary at this time to organize teams to contact Town Meeting members in order to insure passage of an appropriation for this school," Mrs. Milton Anderson, chairman, said.

"It is our earnest belief that all interested persons should attend because if we are to have this school, more work will have to be done than can be undertaken by the School Committee and the Pheasant Avenue School Building Committee."

"Our mailing list is limited, so please notify as many interested persons as you are able and bring them to the meeting."

OUR SAVIOUR NOTES

The G.F.S. will hold a paper and rag drive on Jan. 23.

The annual Parish meeting will be held on February 1. The Rt. Rev. Frederick Lawrence will attend as a representative of the Diocese.

PTA Hears Panel On School Setup

The third meeting of the year of the Cyrus E. Dallin School P.T.A. was well attended in spite of a stormy evening.

Mrs. Lawrence Corcoran spoke on the amount of photographic material distributed to young people and asked the members to be on the alert for this material and report the receipt of any to the proper authorities, so that its source can be traced and its distribution stopped.

After the business meeting, an interesting and stimulating question and answer period was held. The panel was comprised of sup't of schools, Dr. Bert Roens; ass't sup't, Dr. Anderson; Horace Homer, chairman of the Dallin Building committee; Mrs. Edna Penwarden, principal.

The subject of the evening was "Accenting the Positive in the Dallin School." The complete status of the school was covered from the condition of the building and the possible relocation of pupils next year, to the forming of a 3rd Fifth grade in the school as of Jan. 1.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. John Nolan and her committee.

The next meeting will be held on March 8. The topic will be "Knowing Your Town Government."

Greater Boston Profile

Despite a deep concern for Greater Boston's problems, business leaders in the region are not active as community leaders in solving these problems.

This is the main conclusion of the Greater Boston Economic Study Committee in its fifth economic base report on the region— "A Profile of Greater Boston Business Executives."

Reverend W. Seavey Joyce, GBESC Executive Committee member, and Gregory B. Wolfe, director of research, released the report last week.

Its findings are based on a survey of 1109 Greater Boston persons who have received advanced degrees in business administration from four area universities— Harvard, Boston College, Northeastern, and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Essentially, the report pinpoints the four top problems which business executives feel are confronting the Greater Boston region and what these men are doing about them.

While mentioned most frequently were transportation, taxes and politics, a surprising number of the respondents felt that "New England" attitudes were a detriment to the development and character of the area.

"The main conclusion that emerges," say the authors, "is that the talent of the business school alumni is an under-used resource in the Greater Boston area."

"While their potential for community service is great, business school alumni do not seem inclined to participate actively in the search for solutions to (Greater Boston) problems."

Nearly one third of those answering the survey spend no time at all in civic affairs.

About three quarters spend 10-20 per cent of their time in community work. But most of this is limited to church or charitable work, or assistance in youth services, such as the Little League, Cub Scouts or P.T.A.

"This is to be deplored," the report states, "for as a group they are highly educated and professionally skilled."

Although the authors suggest no program to correct this, they do point out that: Almost half (47 per cent) of the respondents to this survey said their firms did not actively encourage participation in civic affairs. The report then points out:

"There appears to be a fairly strong correlation between company encouragement and the respondents' participation in civic affairs."

For example: among those encouraged by their firms to become involved in public affairs, seven out of every ten gave 10-20 per cent of their time to civic affairs. On the other hand, two in every five among those not so encouraged took no part in civic affairs and less than half spent 10-20 per cent of their time in public activities.

Significantly, the report showed that the vast majority of those business executives lived in those areas west of Boston which a previous GBESC report showed are experiencing the greatest population increases and a consequent rise in local problems

Mid-Winter Check Up Must For Cars

One sure way of keeping your car in trim for winter ahead is to have a good mid-winter check-up. Proper lubrication, and an accurate tune-up can mean the difference between a costly repair bill and good winter driving ahead.

Chan's Jenney Station located on Mass. ave., next to the Arlington High School can give your car the check-up it needs to carry you thru to Spring.

Growing with the town, Dewey's Luncheonette on Massachusetts ave. has mushroomed into a thriving enterprise offering a variety of services and products to Arlingtonians.

Starting with a coffee shop ten years ago, which he more or less inherited from its original owner, Dewey Mitchell has expanded the local luncheon spot into a complete luncheonette, variety store and smoke shop.

The luncheonette is a popular eating spot for business men and teenagers alike, offering the best in quick meals, a sandwich or just a cup of coffee, which incidentally is reputed to be the "best in town". We at the Advocate can more than testify as to the quality of the food served by Dewey.

Dewey has also opened a complete variety store for those forgotten items on your weekly shopping list. The variety store is open at night to better serve the town's residents.

Home Buyer Treated Fairly By This Firm

Potential home buyers for the most part are inexperienced in real estate transactions and therefore must of necessity depend on the honesty and integrity of real estate brokers to give them the best possible buy.

The J. Stewart Patterson Real Estate firm at 106 Mass.achusetts ave., has earned a reputation of integrity in their dealings through years of service to both home buyer and home seller.

At Pattersons, prospects are carefully screened thus avoiding time-wasters and curiosity seekers.

Of importance to the seller is Patterson's ability to obtain the best possible market price and Patterson's experience in the real estate field means a faster sale without all the headaches.

Quality and Speed at Maran's

The age of automation has meant above all speed, but in many cases speed has replaced the important factor quality, the important ingredient that places one business a step above another.

Maran Printing Service at 88-90 Warren street, Arlington has been able to keep pace with the age of automation while at the same time maintaining the quality of the firm's work which has made Maran's one of the leading printing firms in the area.

Owned and operated by Arthur Maranian, a life-time resident of Arlington, Maran's offers a complete commercial printing service.

Wedding invitations, social programs, business firms and cards are just a few of the many types of services offered by this quality business.

Maran Printing Service is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and 8 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday.

The award was one of 15 out of 15,000 projects submitted to Fairchild.

Red and Gray Jottings

by Annemarie Collins

The A.H.S. five lost a heart-breaker to Waltham, 66-64 on Jan. 12. Last Friday, they were topped by Rindge, 58-39.

Last Thursday, Allied Youth elected its officers. They are president, Peter Statti; 1st vice pres., Mark Kahan; 2nd vice pres., Betsy Fitzpatrick; 3rd vice pres., Paul Mercandetti; secretary, Betty Kerr, and treasurer, Jean Weisenberger. The Club hopes to have a get-together with the New Bedford A.Y. in the near future.

Arlington's hockey team, leaders in the G.B.I. league, tipped Brookline 2-1. Both goals were scored by Charlie Morgan. Saturday, they play Somerville.

At their Friday meetings, members of the Science club are demonstrating various principles which will be used in the Science Fair. This fair, for high school students only, will be presented on March 4th.

HELEN ROBERTS

Miss Helen Roberts, 69, of Hudson, Mass., passed away Jan. 12. Prior to retirement in 1956 she had resided at 7 Linden st., Arlington, for over 30 years.

A native of Farmington, New Hampshire, she was a graduate of Plymouth (N.H.) State Teachers' College and entered the Arlington school system in 1919. She served the Locke school, first as teacher and then as acting principal.

Later, she was for several years co-owner of The Minuteman Gift Shop in Lexington.

Miss Roberts was a member of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Lexington and of The Mother Church in Boston.

She is survived by a brother, George C. Roberts, of Farmington, and a niece, Mrs. Alfred M. Braga of Hudson, with whom she had recently made her home.

Services were held at the Leland Funeral Home in Hudson on January 16, with interment in Farmington, N.H.

FRANK S. LEAHY, 3 Indian Hill road, has been granted a license to sell bakery products in Middlesex County.

The Chess team defeated Brookline 7½-2½ last Friday. That night, they beat Harvard 3½-1½.

Mr. Robinson and Mr. Blachett are now conducting art classes after school for students interested in learning more about painting and different painting techniques. The former conducts classes in oils, the latter in water colors.

At their Tuesday meeting, the Girls club voted on the date, location, and band for their Sweetheart Formal to be held in February. The ski trip will be held on Jan. 30 at Mt. Snow in Vermont. The day will start at 5:45 a.m. (yawn!) and end at 10 p.m. (that night, (two yawns!))

The Dramatic club is going to participate in the Drama Festival on Feb. 18 and 19. A play has not yet been chosen.

The Girls' basketball team met Somerville on January 20.
